PASIS OF REPRESENTATION.

the call for the national convention After the call for the national convention had been read, a motion was made to appoint a committee of one from each congressional district to report the basis of representation in and time and place for holding the State convention.

This motion was rejected, and the committee concluded to act on these questions as a whole.

Scott, of Hanover, moved that the Mr. Scott, of Hanover, moved that the basis of representation be one delegate for each 100 votes cast at the gubernatorial election of 1889, and one delegate for a fraction over 50 votes. As a rule the basis or representation in previous conventions has been one delegate for every 200 voters.

Mr. Scott's motion was agreed to.

PLACE OF MEETING. The question of the place of meeting was next considered.

Dr. Jud. B. Wood, chairman of the City

Dr. Jud. B. Wood, chairman of the Cipy Democratic Committee, made a strong ar-gument in favor of the claims of Rich-mond, and was reinforced by Messrs. Ryan, Haskins, and Meredith, of this city, Mr. Merchant of Fredericksburg, Major Suth-erlin of Danville, and Major Glass of Lynchburg.

The only matter upon which there was really any discussion was the place of

Mr. Rogers, in withdrawing Roanoke spole in favor of Norfolk, and urged as a objection to Richmond that some of the newspapers here had discussed one of the promines t candidates in such a manner is

Mr. Glass said he was as strong a Hill man as any in the State of Virginia, but he believed in the freedom of the press, and did not think the people should be made to suffer for the views of the newspapers. He wanted the convention held in Richmond, the capital of the State.

The convention will be one of the largest ever held in the State, comprising, as it will, 1,657 delegates. The representation of the several counties and cities will be as who the people want.

Several of the members of the two committees were approached by Disparca representatives and requested to give their impressions in respect of the choice of the people of their sections for the presidential nominee as between Hill and Cleveland.

Mr. Rufus B. Merchaut, of Fredericksburg, said: "The majority of the Democrats of my section, I believe, are for Cleveland, though Hill has many supporters. They, however, are rapidly coming to the conclusion that unless the Democracy of New York will subordinate personal preference to party success it would be unwise to nominate either of the distinguished gentlemen."

Mr. M. Glennan, of Norfolk, said he thought the people in the cities down his way were for Hill, though his impression was that Hill had lost ground by his southern tour. In the country the people were, he believed, divided.

UNANIMOUS FOR CLEVELAND.

UNANIMOUS FOR CLEVELAND.

Hon. Rufus A. Avers, of Scott, said that the people of the Southwest were, he thought, practically unanimous for Cleveland as a matter of personal choice. The delegates, however, who would go to the national convention from that section would recognize that they were not sent there to press the personal claims of any man, but to do the best they could for the supremacy of the Democratic party. There was no decided opposition to Hill in the Southwest. The situation was simply this: Not that the people loved Hill less, but they loved Cleveland more.

Hon. William A. Anderson, of Lexington, stated that he could not assume to speak for the people of his district. His opinnion was lovever, that if they had to choose between Cleveland and Hill they would nominate the former, though Hill had some strong friends in his section. If the people were left entirely free to make the homination he thought, as a matter of policy, they would not take either Hill or Cleveland. UNANIMOUS FOR CLEVELAND.

Hon. John F. Ryan, of Loudoun, said his people were divided, but he thought they were very unanimous in the opinion that the delegates to the national convention should go uninstructed, ascertain who was the man most likely to win, and then you for that man who was the man most likely to win, and then vote for that man.

Mr. R. G. Southall, of Amelia, said that a week ago he would have stated that Cleveland was the choice of his people, but from the talk around the villages he thought Hill was gaining ground.

The Florence (Ala.) Times has the following to say about a young man who has hosts of friends here in Richmond, where he lived up to a year or two ago, when, with a number of our other young men, he went to the flourishing Alabama town to engage in business:

He was for a long time engaged in the contracting business and also in the millwright business, but retired several years ago upon a competency.

Mr. Perry was the last surviving juror in the celebrated case of the Commonwealth rs. Thomas Ritchie, Jr., which was tried in the Circuit Court of Chesterfield in 1846, Judge John B. WHAT IT REALLY IS.

The Most Dangerous of Modern Disorders Clearly Defined-Pneumonia and What

There has been a great mistake as to what pneumonia really is. People, and even some physicians, have called it a dangerous disease. Pneumonia is always an after effect. If the system is run down, weakened, debilitated, if the life is at a low ebb, the lungs may fill up and the person die suddenly, and it is called pneumonia. No man or woman ever died of pneumonia when the body was strong, vigorous, and healthy. It comes upon one when weakened by grip, by a severe cold, or overwork, and a generally weakened condition. Such being the case, how can this dreadful trouble known as pneumonia by strengthening and fortifylag the body, by having the health and strength so secure that pneumonia will not attack, or if it should, can easily be warded off. Therean be done by careful living, careful diet, and a moderate use of a pure stimulant. To gently assist nature a stimulant is required, something that adds to the life and vigor. Nothing for this purpose can equal pure whiskey, and it should be borne in mind that the only pure and medicinal whiskey which has received the unqualified indorsement of physicians and scientists is buffy's Pure Mail. It is no ordinary whiskey, but possesses properties known to no other article. It will effectually ward off pneumenia and has saved the lives of thousands of people. It should be remembered, however, that it is the only whiskey which can accomplish this, and any druggist or grocer who seeks to convince you to the contrary is deceiving. Insist upon having Duffy's Pure Mail.
